

Developing Counterclaims

Counterclaims make your argument strong. Imagine that you are talking to someone about your ideas, and they disagree! Think about your claim and the evidence you have gathered to respond. Your arguments come from your evidence.

Use the space below to record your arguments on one side and counterclaims on the other. Then, choose at least two counterclaims that you can best argue against.

My claim is:

My arguments	Counterclaim

This project is supported by the Alaska Native Education Program (ANEP) of the U.S. Department of Education as part of an award (S356A210063) totaling $1,753,461 with no additional funds from non-governmental sources. The contents are those of ATLAS and ASRC and do not necessarily represent the official views of, nor an endorsement, by ANEP, the U.S. Department of Education, or the U.S. Government. For more information, visit the Department of Education's Alaska Native Education page.